To whom it may concern

Starting in the fall of 2022, with the project concluding in summer 2023, RIDI worked with Westland Construction on a project for an Institutional Client. The team, led by Matt Froese, and supported by Michael Berezay and Cindy Hendrickson (amongst others), worked ceaselessly to align the client's expectations while ensuring that the stringent design documentation was executed to RIDI's high expectations. The overall professionalism and conduct of the extended team and subtrades made the jobsite and project process one of respect and inclusive collaboration.

This project turned out to be a very positive experience for me; knowing that all team members are working with the same project vision and therefore having the trust that the project is being completed with integrity and ownership, lifts a huge amount of stress from the perspective of the Prime Consultant.

The project team made themselves, the client and the consultant team look great by executing the work to the best standard.
